13. The device is successfully added and displayed in the list. After the process is completed, log in to the FCA account on your device to unlock the vehicle security gateway.

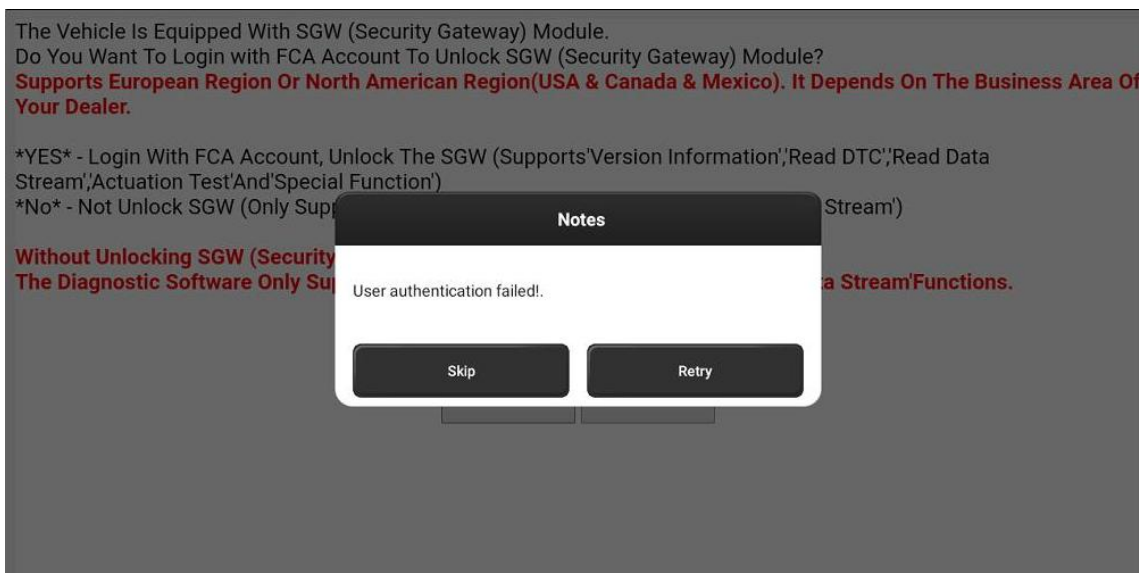

FCA unlock failure solution

1. Confirm whether the version number of the diagnostic software is the latest, if not, please go to the upgrade center to upgrade the software to the latest version.
2. If the software is the latest version, the SGW still fails to unlock with the error notice "Failed to unlock SGW. Please check the network connection is working." Please confirm whether the device's SN type is selected correctly (refer to Device Add FCA Corresponding Option selection at 9-10 pages) and whether the device's used location corresponds with the FCA area or not.

3. Confirm that the software version is the latest, the device SN type selection and region selection are correct, while the error notice prompts "User authentication failed". Please contact AutoAuth customer service to check whether the account is normal.

Note: If the gateway still cannot be unlocked after following the above methods, please contact THINKCAR customer service to confirm the problem.
